

Enrichment

To stop our animals getting bored we have enrichment activities for them, to encourage natural behaviour they would use in the wild. Enrichment could involve many activities, including giving them toys to play with, changing their enclosure design or presenting their food in different ways.

Try and match up the type of enrichment with the right animal

Frozen fruit blocks

Tigers

Bucket containing fruit with small hole in the base

Otters

Giselle piñata with meat in its belly

Capuchin Monkeys

Look for 2 other examples of enrichment around the zoo.
Remember, this can be as simple as what we put in the animal's enclosure.
Write them below:-

Favourite animal enclosure

1. Name your favourite animal enclosure at the Zoo

2. In the space below, draw the enclosure you like the most and describe why you liked it.
